Out?*Have You the Clothes?

You must have them. If in a hurry, so much the better for us. We fit men in a hurry. And such good clothes. Ready for the social whirl, the theatre, the club, the lodge. Full dress for complete formality, dinner suits for the family circle and stage doings. Lined with rich silk and in the height of style. Only master tailors should ever touch cloth for full dress clothes. Ours are made by the STEIN-BLOCH SMART TAILORS, who have been making them for 50 years so that they fit smooth, show a more striking style and a clearer knowledge of the fine points of clothes-building than the work of any other needlemen in the world, barring a few crack custom shops of New York and London.

HILO'S TIDAL WAVE

HILO TRIBUNE.

Through the courtesy of Sheriff J. C. Searle, the Tribune is able to reproduce herewith a vivid account of the tidal wave, which deluged Hilo on May 10, 1877, and resulted in the loss of many lives and property. The account is in the form of an official report of Sheriff Severance addressed to Marshal W. C. Parke, and is as follows:

Hilo, May 11, 1877.

W. C. Parke, Esq., Marshal.
Dear Sir: We have had a great disaster at Hilo. On Thursday morning the 10th inst., at about 4 o'clock a. m., the sea in the bay was seen to rise and fall in an unusual manner, and at 5 o'clock it swept in, in a mighty wave, washing up and into nearly all the stores in the front of the town, carrying off a great deal of lumber and all the stone wall makai of the wharf. The perpendicular height of the wave (as we have since ascertained by levelling with the lamp-post on the wharf) was 12 feet 3 inches above the ordinary low water mark.

But at Waialakea the damage was frightful; every house within a hundred yards of the water was swept away. The steamboat wharf and the storehouse, Spencer's storehouse, the bridge across the stream, and all the dwelling houses were swept away in an instant, and now lie a mass of ruins far inland. Five lives were lost, and numbers bruised and had limbs broken. The body of one woman was found by the boats off Honolulu. The boats of the American whaler Pacific, Capt. Smithers, lying in the harbor, picked up six people who were swimming for their lives in the Bay. The Pacific was lying in 4 fathoms of water, but she grounded when the sea receded, and then would be whirled round and round as the sea came in again. All expected to see her drag ashore.

The sea continued to rise and fall all day. I timed one of the tides in the morning about 7 o'clock, and from its lowest ebb to its full flood was only about 4 minutes. It rose about 14 feet perpendicular height in that time. In the afternoon in the space of one hour, the sea rose and fell three times with a height above half tide of 7.10 1-2 and 3 feet each time.

Mr. Rose's tin shop was floated off its foundations, and is now in the middle of the street.

The poor people at Waialakea are in a sad state; houses destroyed and utterly destitute; their goods and furniture scattered far and wide on sea and land. The water was 3 inches deep in Conway's store, when the 5 o'clock wave came in. The wave at Waialakea must have had a perpendicular height of 16 feet, to have taken the bridge and wharf where they now lie. The water swept completely over Coconut Island, and the hospital there has disappeared. The oil of the bark Pacific, stored in Spencer's storehouse, has been nearly all found scattered about among the bushes and trees, a long ways in shore from the place where the storehouse stood.

There has been nothing like this tidal wave since the year 1837, nearly 40 years ago, when many grass houses were destroyed.

I have made a careful investigation of the extent of the disaster, and find as follows, viz.: Thirty-seven dwelling houses entirely destroyed; seventeen badly injured; five people drowned and killed; seven badly injured; one hundred and sixty-three left homeless and destitute; seventeen horses and mules drowned—this is exclusive of the government property. Sisson estimates his loss (in lumber) at several thousand dollars. The total damage has been estimated as high as $12,000 to $14,000, which is, I think, a low estimate, as several thousand dollars worth of stores belonging to the ship Josephine, and about thirty barrels of oil, of the Pacific, are still to be accounted for.

Yours, in haste,

L. SEVERANCE.

At a meeting of the Cabinet Ministers today, it was decided to send pecuniary aid to such as may have been rendered destitute by the Hilo disaster; and among the passengers for Hilo by the Kilauea are Her Royal Highness the Heir Apparent and suite and His Excellency Gov. Dominis, who go as special Commissioners. The Governor is authorized by the Government to render such aid to the sufferers as may appear necessary.

At a meeting of the association of MEN, HERE'S AN OFFER!

SUPPOSE YOU ARE A WEAK MAN.

You've doctored and doped till you are sick of it all. You would pay for anything that would give you back your old vim.

You don't want to pay out any more money till you are sure.

Tell me your trouble and if I say I can cure you I will do so or pay you $1000.

Is that fair? Then get in line.

I know what I can do, because I've done it and am doing it every day. I'm sure that Electricity is the life and that I can restore it where it's lost. So if you need what I offer, and don't want to risk my price, I'll take the chances.

And when you do pay me the cost is less than a short season of drugging, and how much more pleasant! You put my belt on when you go to bed; you feel the soothing exhilarating vigor flowing into your weak body, and while you sleep peacefully it fills you full of the fire of life. You wake up in the morning feeling like a giant.

Now, I can't cure everything. I don't claim to, and I won't take a case that I don't feel sure of, but all these troubles which come from an early waste of vitality, from dissipation of any kind, from decay of nerve power, or from any organic, stomach, liver or kidney weakness, I can cure, and those are the cases I am willing to tackle and take the chances on.

I'm curing them every day. Here are a few men who recently answered "Cured."

Arnold F. Berri of Marshall, Cal., says I cured him after the failure of doctors.

Hugh Fraser, 309 Sutter St., San Francisco, cured of Lumbago and Sciatica after suffering for 35 years.

A. J. Hammond, 330 Pine St., cured of general debility. Is an old man, but now strong and vigorous.

Tell me where you are and I'll give you the name of a man in your own town that I've cured. I've got cures in every town.

That's enough. You need the cure. I've got it. You want it. I'll give it to you. Come and get it now.

The pleasurable moments of this life are too few, so don't throw any away. While there's a chance to be husky and strong, to throw out your chest and look at yourself in the glass and say, "I'm a man," do it, and don't waste time thinking about it.

I've got a beautiful book, full of good, honest talk about how men are made big and noble, and I'll send it to you free, sealed, if you send this ad.

BELIEVED HIM.

The Shaver: You see, to us thinkin' folks the old-fashioned theory of future punishment is all bosh. Now, I believe that a man gets all the hell he ever can right here.

The Victim: Right you are!

In rural Finland a bride wears to and in front a fall of lace which shades a curious combination of wed-ows face. Over her dark cash ding veil and wedding bonnet, it is a mere dress she ties a handsomely embroidered cap with ribbon streamers behind broidered white apron.
